

CITIZENS GREET LODGE VISITORS IN OPEN SESSION

Hospitality of City Thrown Open to Grand Lodge Delegates.

WILL FURNISH AUTOS

Fraternal Guests to Make Visits to Industrial Plants of Ada.

Friendship, love and truth—the true Odd Fellowship spirit, prevailed at the welcoming session of the I. O. O. F. Grand Lodge and Rebekah Assembly in the college auditorium Monday night. Delegates from all parts of the state mingled with local Odd Fellows and citizens and joined hands in giving and receiving a hearty welcome.

Key to the city was given to R. U. Livesay, Grand Master, by Lowery Harrell, city attorney, who opened the address of welcome and extended an invitation to the visitors to visit industrial plants and business houses.

Following his address, Dr. A. Linscheid spoke at length on the sincere spirit in which the Chamber of Commerce, Lions Club and business men of the city extended their welcome to the visiting Odd Fellows and Rebekahs. He also touched on the relation of the I. O. O. F. organization to the fundamental growth of America, classing the fraternal organization among the highest in principle in the world.

Hon. Tom D. McKown closed the welcoming addresses. He repeated the utterances of earlier speakers of the evening that the city of Ada was unanimous in extending a hearty greeting to the visitors. He also touched on the history of Odd Fellowship and closed by inviting the visitors to be at home while here, inasmuch as the homes of the city were open to them.

In responding to these declarations of hearty appreciation of the visitors, Grand Master Livesay expressed for the Grand Lodge, himself and the Rebekahs a sincere pleasure in coming to Ada. He said he had attended many conventions and was pleased to know that the spirit in which Ada received the visitors was as true and sincere as any he had encountered.

Mrs. Bell Black, responding for the Rebekah assembly, declared that it was a great pleasure to the state delegates as well as herself to be guests of the city and the local lodges. She said she hoped the work here would be an inspiration in carrying on the work and promoting the spirit of brotherly love in Odd Fellowship.

McKeel Presides
Judge J. F. McKeel presided and made the announcements. He advised visitors that cars would be furnished free to transport them to any part of the city at any time. He also invited them to visit and inspect local industries while here, saying also that cars would be furnished to take them to any of the industrial plants.

College musical organizations were active. Two solos and several selections by the band added zest to the meeting, which served as "get acquainted" session for delegates. Immediately after the program, officers of the Assembly and Grand Lodge repaired to the college reception room where they received delegates to the convention. Refreshments of punch and cakes were served.

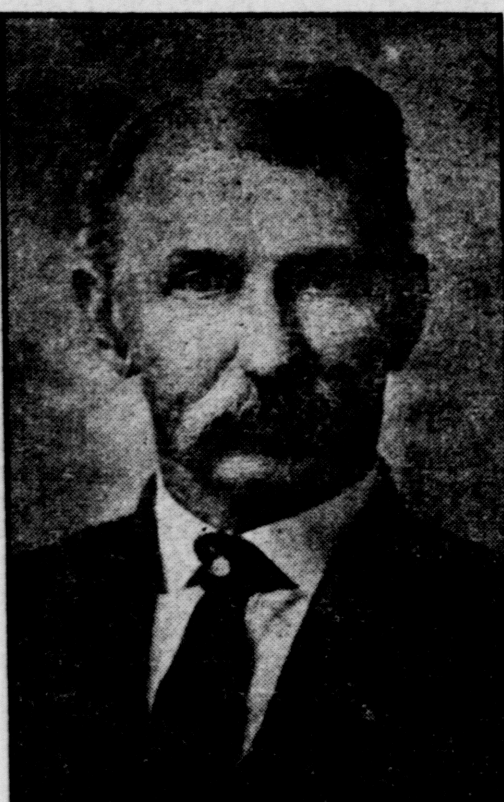

This was the first general session of the gathering here. Citizens were admitted and the college auditorium was packed.

Delegates from Enid started working as soon as they arrived here to land the convention next year. It is understood that several other places want the Grand Lodge and Assembly in 1923.

Liquor Frauds Are Pointed Out Today by U. S. Grand Jury
(By the Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Oct. 3.—Persons unnamed in a report to the department of justice were declared in a federal grand jury report to have obtained quantities of intoxicating liquors in 1920 without due process of law, said liquor being taken for the private use of individuals or given to friends.

The grand jury report said that the liquor had been seized and stored in rented storage places and was disposed of by such officers illegally. A report said that in view of the unprecedented circumstances surrounding the case it had been decided not to return any indictments.

NEW RAIL TERMS SIGNED TUESDAY

49 Roads and Workmen in Country Approve Old Wages and Rules.

(By the Associated Press)
CHICAGO, Oct. 3.—A new agreement maintaining the old rates of pay and rules and working conditions was signed today by representatives of approximately 49 railroads and subdivisions and the Brotherhoods of railroad trainmen and the Order of Railroad Conductors.

The agreement which will be in effect until October 21, 1923, maintaining old wage levels and rules including time and one half for overtime after eight hours, was considered by the employees' organizations as favorable to them. Grievance committees of the trainmen's organization on 19 roads entering Chicago had approved the agreement before W. G. Lee, president of the trainmen and L. E. Sheppard, president of the conductors, affixed their names today.

The Western managers headed by W. M. Jeffers, general manager of the Union Pacific railroad, were said to have been mindful of the attitude of the train service brotherhoods in living up strictly to their agreements with roads and to have made some concessions in the progress of the negotiations which began yesterday.

Under the agreement, all disputes as to rules and working conditions now pending before the labor board will be withdrawn by both sides.

The agreement also contains a clause providing for termination of the agreement upon 30 days notice being given. Local grievance committees of individual roads also were authorized to negotiate with the individual roads on local rules.

TURKISH CAVALRY WITHDRAWS TODAY
(By the Associated Press)
CONSTANTINOPLE, Oct. 3.—The Turkish cavalry has retired from its advanced positions in the Chankaya area, decreasing the danger of conflict there.

This withdrawal, which is described in a message from the Dardanelles as "slight," was supposed here to be in consequence of word received by the Turks that the Mudania conference was in session. The Turks, however, were still said to be well within the neutral zone.

One reason for damp cellars in the summer is that the moist air in contact with the cool inner surface of the walls and floor is chilled below its dew points and condensation results.

WOMAN CHOSEN TO TAKE PLACE OF TOM WATSON

Mrs. W. H. Felton Selected By Governor Hardwick to Finish Term.

FIRST WOMAN THERE

New Precedent is Fixed in Choosing a New Georgia Senator.

(By the Associated Press)
ATLANTA, Ga., Oct. 3.—Mrs. W. H. Felton, 87 years old, of Cartersville, Ga., was appointed by Governor Thomas W. Hardwick today to fill the vacancy caused by the death of United States Senator Thomas E. Watson, until the people elect a successor in November. Mrs. Felton will be the first woman to become a senator.

At the same time Governor Hardwick announced his candidacy to succeed Senator Watson who died last week in Washington. The primary will be held October 17. Whether Mrs. Felton will actually have an opportunity to qualify and serve as a member of the senate is doubtful for the successor will have been elected when the senate meets in November.

Congressman's Widow
Mrs. Felton is the widow of Dr. W. H. Felton of Cartersville, Ga., who served as a member of congress for several terms. She has long been active in Georgia politics. Many years before the women were granted the right to suffrage, Mrs. Felton managed her husband's campaigns and stumped the district in his behalf. She was a friend of the late Senator Watson and supported Governor Hardwick in his recent campaign for re-nomination.

The new senator has taken an active and influential part in political campaigns in Georgia for many years. On several occasions she addressed the state legislature and has served as a member of the board of visitors of the University of Georgia.

Mrs. Felton has a wide acquaintance with leaders in the national affairs and in 1921 conferred with President Harding while he was visiting in St. Augustine, Fla., prior to assuming the presidency.

Mrs. Felton announced her acceptance of the appointment.

Short Stories of I. O. O. F. Convention

Hon. William Nobel, inspector for the State Industrial Commission, is in the city today attending the meeting of Odd Fellows and also checking up on the industrial firms and contractors to determine who is not carrying liability insurance. He says he finds most of those in Ada carrying the insurance, and those who have not been carrying it express their determination to do so immediately. Mr. Nobel for many years was a resident of McAlester and is well known to many who live in this section. For twelve years he was postmaster at McAlester, and is a 32nd Degree Mason and a leader in lodge work.

Among the prominent Odd Fellows attending the Grand Lodge are A. N. Leecraft and A. S. J. Shaw, both past grand masters. Mr. Leecraft is also past head council of the W. O. V. of Oklahoma. Mr. Leecraft is present state treasurer and Mr. Shaw the Democratic nominee to succeed him. Digressing from Odd Fellowship to politics in conversation with the News, both expressed the opinion that Walton will be elected governor by an overwhelming vote a month hence.

MRS. BULLIED IS HELD FOR FIGHT

Clarita Woman Bound Over Here Upon Charge of Assault on Kill.

After almost three months of stubborn fighting to regain her health, Mrs. Bessie Aycock was able to appear in court Monday and testify for the state in the preliminary of her sister, Mrs. Stella Bullied, whose home is near Clarita, charged with assault to kill in connection with shooting the former.

Mrs. Bullied was bound over to the district court by Justice of the Peace H. J. Brown under $1000 bond. She made bail.

Mrs. Bullied was arrested after the shooting, which occurred Sunday, July 16, at the home of Tom Phares, brother-in-law of the two women, who lives three miles northeast of Lula. At that time Phares told officers he walked into the room in time to see the hand of Mrs. Bullied and prevent her firing the second shot into the body of her sister.

In the preliminary hearing Monday, Mrs. Aycock hinted at a quarrel which she had with Mrs. Bullied previous to the shooting but was not allowed to describe its nature.

For weeks after the shooting, Mrs. Aycock hovered between life and death and charges against her sister were not filed until doctors reported that the wounded woman would recover.

EDDIE AINSWORTH MAKES GOOD WITH CARDINAL NINE

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Oct. 3.—Eddie Ainsworth, formerly battery pitcher of Walter Johnson, the fireball king, has made good with the St. Louis Cardinals after being waived out of the American League, according to Branch Rickey, manager of the team.

Released by Washington to the Detroit Tigers several years ago, Ainsworth came to St. Louis and asked Rickey for a job. Rickey signed the veteran catcher, who became the leading backstop for the Cardinals this season.

2 LODGES START FIRST BUSINESS SESSIONS TODAY

Grand Lodge Degree Given to 125 Delegates as Program Opens.

203 GO INTO ASSEMBLY

Muscovites to Stage Bear Hunt as Side Event at Hall This Evening.

First business sessions of the I. O. O. F. Grand Lodge and Rebekah assembly were held this morning, the first at the McSwain theatre and the second at the Methodist church.

First thing on the program of the grand lodge was the conferring of the Grand Lodge degree on about 125 delegates. Routine business occupied most of the morning, various matters being presented and referred to the proper committees.

The Rebekah Assembly opened with more than its usual amount of enthusiasm, according to prominent members, who stated that this may be partly due to the many courtesies extended by the citizens of Ada. It was thought that perhaps the attendance would be somewhat smaller than usual, but this fear proved unfounded when 203 delegates were given the Assembly degree. Twenty-one past presidents are here. This breaks all previous records. Each was presented with a beautiful rose with a touching speech from President Belle Black. The response was delivered by Past President Reger.

This being the Silver Anniversary of the Rebekah Assembly, an appropriate program was rendered by Past Presidents Schueler, McWelly, Harrison and Reger.

Their Favorite Verse
Following is a verse expressing the principles of Odd Fellowship which is a favorite gem of the old orders:

On the Road we all travel
There's many a stream
Or gulf to be spanned.
Then the best I ween
Is to build stalwart bridges
With the concrete of love.
And girders of Friendship
That time may so prove
Though the gulf or the stream
Be as wide as they please,
With Love, Friendship and Truth
We can span them with ease.
This afternoon the two bodies convened shortly after 1 o'clock for the transaction of further business.

Grand Sire Coming
Gov. J. B. A. Robertson, Past Grand Sire of the order, arrived this morning and is attending the afternoon session. M. J. Martin of St. Joseph, Mo., present Grand Sire, was expected this afternoon, but a telegram from him stated that he was delayed by an important business engagement but would make every effort to reach Ada Wednesday.

Evening's Program.
At 8 o'clock a program will be given at the church by Past Grand Representatives Association to the Past Grand Lodge officers, will be given at the Methodist church.

A Bear Hunt.
This evening at 11 o'clock the Imperial Order of Muscovites will stage a bear hunt at the I. O. O. F. Hall. They expect to initiate some thirty of forty including several high up officers. A black bear, very much alive, is on hand and whether the hunters are to be fed to him or expected to ride him is a mystery which none but the properly instructed will ever know.

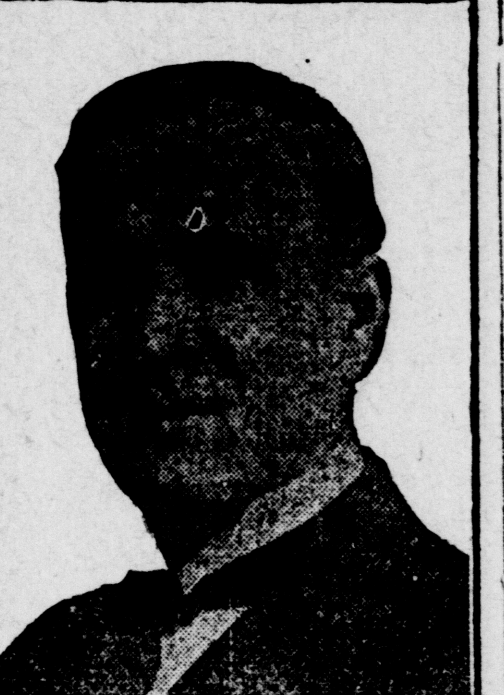

This organization is not a regular part of the I. O. O. F. Fraternity, but no one is eligible unless he has taken the Royal Purple degree of the encampment. It is designed as a playground for Odd Fellows, a prominent member stated, or it might be considered the Shrine of Odd Fellows.

1,000 Are Here.
At noon today the total number of delegates and visitors registered was around 1,000 and it was stated that 300 or 400 others had not registered. No trouble has been experienced in finding rooms for them and with autos always at their command the delegates have no trouble in getting anywhere they wish to go. The assembly delegates were taken to the church in cars this morning, thereby adding greatly to their comfort.

Chola women of South America are stated never to remove a petticoat, clean ones being added as required. Some of them are credited with as many as 40 of these garments.

AMERICAN BINDS UP HER WOUNDS

Lamont Draws Picture of Country's Recovery From World War.

(By the Associated Press)
NEW YORK, Oct. 3.—Pictures of America, recovering from the "rude buffeting and deep wounds" of 1917 to 1921, and "with a characteristic courage, binding up her bruises and slowly moving forward to new goals," was drawn today by Thomas Lamont, assistant of J. P. Morgan, in an address before 10,000 delegates at the convention of the American Bankers' Association.

"But we have not yet occasion for sound content," he cautioned the bankers. "We must not forget that, before the race is won, we still have some high hurdles to jump." Discussing reparations and the interrelated debt Mr. Lamont raised two questions:

"Do our former allies really owe us all the debt; and are we doing our full share to solve the tragic questions that are weighing upon the world?"

Lives Were Costly.
"One thing is certain," he declared, "if someone, on April 4, 1917, had been able to give us our choice as to whether we should rather give up freely and for all time five billions of dollars or give up the lives of several hundred thousands of our sons, there would have been no hesitation as to our choice."

Mr. Lamont sought to console the farmers, who, he said, complain that "though this is a big season for crops, our net money gains will be small."

"I cannot attempt to argue the point of low prices," continued the financier. "But I never knew a country to go broke because of its abundant crops. So even though our farmers suffer disappointment, I think the low price hurdle is the easiest one to jump. Farmers had high prices in 1919 and 1920, but the aftermath was a severe one for them. In the long run, they, like all of us, will fare better on moderate price scales, with small fluctuations."

Dissenting Opinion on Bozarth Hearing Handed Down Tuesday
OKLAHOMA CITY, Oct. 3.—A dissenting opinion by Justice Miller declaring that Judge Mark L. Bozarth should not have been disqualified to sit in the bribery trial of Governor J. B. A. Robertson was handed down today. Justice Miller declared that the governor "did not want Judge Bozarth to sit in the trial and had pursued a course of action to compel him to disqualify himself."

An opinion written by Chief Justice Harrison, handed down as the court's decision last Tuesday, ordered Judge Bozarth to certify to his disqualification.

BIG MOB STORMS JAIL TO EXTRACT NEGRO PRISONER

Montgomery, Ala., is Scene of Wild Excitement Over Death of Warden.

PEACE NOW RESTORED

Terrell Taken to Another Prison After Firemen Disperse Crowd.

(By the Associated Press)
MONTGOMERY, Oct. 3.—Montgomery was quiet today following a night of excitement which resulted when a mob made repeated demonstrations in an effort to storm the county jail where Joe Terrell, negro, alleged slayer of George Wilson, county game warden, was imprisoned yesterday.

Before firemen and military forces could disperse the mob, five men were wounded.

Authorities announced that Terrell had been removed today "to another prison." The negro was shot in the hip by a posse which captured him near Union Springs.

Daylight revealed scars of the mob's activities. One side of the prison was peppered with various kinds of shot and bullets. The uniform of a fireman who was directing the water onslaught, was pierced by a bullet fired by a member of the mob. Although great provocation at times was offered, military officers said they refused to allow guardsmen to return the fire which the mob mainly directed into the air.

(By the Associated Press)
MONTGOMERY, Ala., Oct. 3.—One negro was killed, a score attacked on street cars, and one white man was shot in disorders here last night and early today following the arrest of Joe Terrell, negro, charged with the murder of George Wilson, a game warden who was shot Saturday night while searching for a negro who was alleged to have killed Albert Sanson, city policeman.

Judge Leon McCord, presiding judge of the circuit court, ordered the grand jury into special session here this morning to investigate the killing of Wilson. Terrell, according to the police, has confessed that he shot the game warden.

Three companies of national guardsmen were ordered to the jail last night, and later the fire department was called upon to disperse the crowd by using the fire hose. The jail was peppered with bullets but the soldiers did not return the fire of the mob.

John Brown, a negro railroad fireman, was removed from his home by a masked party at midnight and questioned about the escape of Jim Glenn, the negro wanted in connection with the killing of the policeman. Brown told the party he knew nothing of the escape and his story was substantiated by several white men. He was released. The mob dispersed shortly after midnight.

NEEDED A HELPING HAND

It is said that squirrels in the city parks of Washington have been so pampered by passersby that they have lost the instinct to store a supply of food for the winter, depending on the bounty of their human friends. We have seen people display the same propensity. Falling into the habit of depending on others they lose their spirit of self reliance. However, there are people who have failed in life, but who might have attained some degree of success had they been given a word of cheer and a helping hand at a critical time.

Somewhat there is a mean streak which often crops out in people manifesting itself in ridiculing the efforts of others and ready to give the fellow who is down another kick to make sure he does not get up again. Just why some people prefer to throw brickbats rather than roses is beyond the human mind to explain. Just why some men whose intentions are good at the beginning must be embittered by being made the butt of cruel jokes cannot be explained. Just why the soul of the ugly duckling of the family or school must be wounded by being made to bear the brunt of the gibes of those more fortunate is a mystery, but such is too often the case.

The spirit of sympathy is not dead in the human breast, however, but it is sometimes difficult to arouse it. Man naturally seeks companionship and the ones who greet him with a smile and word of encouragement often do more for him than if they gave him a check bearing big figures. It is of no special merit to be friendly with those who are in fortunate circumstances and who are in favor with everybody, but it is the one who is in danger of losing his grip on himself and slipping into the down-and-out class who needs your help. Give him a boost, forget his shortcomings and tell him you are expecting to see him up and coming. Pour the balm of sympathy into the wounded soul and water the drooping flower with human kindness and the results will repay you many times over.

With the resignation of Justice Clarke and the appointment of former Senator Sutherland to the supreme bench seven Republicans and two Democrats now compose the court. When Taft was president he could have made the court of this same complexion but he adhered to the idea that six justices were all that any party was entitled to and appointed two Democrats when vacancies occurred through death of other Democrats. He also promoted Justice White to the chief justiceship, although White was a Democrat. That left the court six to three. When Justice Hughes resigned to make the race for the presidency President Wilson appointed a Democrat to succeed him, making the membership five to four. President Harding has had two vacancies to fill, both places formerly held by Democrats, and appointed Taft and Sutherland to fill them.

The question of tax free securities is gradually coming to the front. Tax payers are becoming impatient with the system that taxes industry and thrift and permits the holders of these bonds to go scot free. They are receiving the same protection from the laws of the country that the tax payers do, but they contribute nothing for it. Instead of turning their money into the channels of industry and trade they lock it up in tax free bonds and take life easy, leaving others to carry the load. This also leads to agitation for the issue of more bonds and still more bonds. At the present rate the bond holders will before many years hold a mortgage on everything of value in the entire United States. Whatever the merits of the case may be this question is one that will not down readily when once it is taken up by the public.

In Missouri as in Oklahoma the rooster has been the Democratic emblem on the election tickets for a good many years. Now the party in that state has decided to substitute the goddess of liberty. Perhaps that is all right but in Oklahoma we have stamped under the rooster so long that most voters would feel lost if he picked up a ticket with some other emblem on it. While the goddess of liberty is a fitting emblem of the principles of the party, the crowing rooster is too familiar a friend to be put aside without ceremony.

"New Civilization."

(Chickasha Express)

In the town of Foxboro, Mass., a "new civilization" is being tried out, according to the Boston Globe and other newspapers that have taken note of this interesting experiment. "New Civilization" is a society which was originated by Edgar H. Bristol, wealthy Foxboro manufacturer and banker. Curiously enough, it doesn't cost anything to join it and the dues are only 10 cents a year. In view of the fact that so many organizations are promoted nowadays by gents who pull down so much per joia, their main purpose being to fill the pockets of the organizers, it must be admitted that the Foxboro plan is indeed an innovation in civilization.

It is said that more than a fourth of the people of Foxboro have joined the new society which, besides having a fine creed is doing practical things. Of course, the skeptical will scoff at the whole thing, just as they are said to do in Foxboro, but at the same time, we learn that the members of the society are actually reducing their creed to practice. Of course, this "new civilization" isn't actually new, for, as our old friend Solomon once remarked, "there is nothing new under the sun," but even though it has been in existence a long time it has never been extensively in vogue. Very simple are the rules formulated by Mr. Bristol and his friends. They might revolutionizing the world, righting most of things that are wrong, if they were generally followed. Nobody can lost by trying them a few times. Here they are:

1. Get all the joy out of life you can; give it to the first person you meet and then repeat.
2. Do the things that are right for all.
3. Put your ideals into practice.
4. Do the things you would like to see others do.
5. Be the kind of a person you would like to have for your best friend.
6. Say what you think and mean what you say.
7. Control yourself and work for what you want.
8. Take what belongs to you and see that others get what belongs to them.
9. Treat yourself right and you will be treating others right.
10. Belong to the New Civilization.
11. Earn your own living.
12. Take care of your obligations.
13. Build up a reserve.
14. Have open hands, open minds, open heart.

Let the Constitution Be Unchanged.

A chorus of indignation and emphatic legation greets the labor proposal to amend the constitution of the United States supreme court will have the power to review an act of congress and to declare such an act unconstitutional. But in the event that congress for a second time enacts the legislation in question it will be beyond the power of the court and will stand as the final and unassailable law of the land.

An array of organizations and editorial writers vehemently protest against any such drastic revision of the fundamentals of the government of the United States as would put in the hands of congress alone, without any concurrence by the forty-eight states, the power to change the constitution.

With all due respect to the congress, it is nevertheless true that it does make mistakes, and that probably in the future, as at times in the past, it will be swayed by passion, prejudice, self-interest, and partisan politics. Congress is made up of human beings, and can not, of course, as a body, be more perfect or more wise than the average of its membership. The United States has grown in one hundred and forty-six years from a baby nation to the mightiest on earth. Our people are more free, have more prosperity, less war, greater opportunities, more justice, less government ills than any other people. This growth and these results have come under the beneficent and wise laws which spring from a constitution unalterable save by a long difficult and thought-taking program of sane acquiescence. To substitute for this proved successful plan a new scheme by which we will have no fundamental law; not changeable at will by congress is a proposal which will injure, not help the cause of those who propose it.

Thomas E. Watson

(New York World)

In Senator Thomas E. Watson, of Georgia, intellect beyond the ordinary was prevented from proving useful to his country and his times as it should have been, by the megrims of what Oliver Wendell Holmes used to call a "squirrel brain." Great ability was handicapped by eccentricity and lack of balance which, growing more pronounced with years, almost verged upon insanity.

Watson was not of the Cole Blease or Vandaman type, although he is commonly identified with them. With a better-balanced brain he should have been a fine example of the scholar in politics. Even as it was, he leaves a valuable body of historical writings. His "Life of Thomas Jefferson" and "Life of Napoleon" are works which bring to familiar topics the fresh viewpoint of an original and inquiring mind. "The Story of France" which he wrote from a Populist standpoint, has been used in translation in the

THREATS PROVED LITTLE HARMFUL TO IOWA EDITOR

(By the Associated Press)

CLINTON, Iowa, Oct. 3. — If threats could kill, William D. Eaton never would have lived to complete 61 years as editor and publisher of The Clinton Mirror, which he recently sold.

In the days when the Mirror engaged in ruthlessly exposing crime and criminals, Mr. Eaton was frequently threatened with bodily injury and even with death.

"But I managed to escape them all and live to reach a ripe old age," Mr. Eaton said, now 83, and for the last few years editor and publisher as well as compositor, pressman, business manager and advertising and subscription solicitor for his paper. It is one of the survivors of the days when the Washington hand press was the acme of perfection. It is still used in The Mirror office.

Mr. Eaton, until his retirement regarded as dean of Iowa newspaper men, began his career as printer in Cleveland, Ohio, working for a time with Joseph Medill, later of the Chicago Tribune. With H. Kellogg, who subsequently became his father-in-law, he went west to Webster City, Iowa, and then on to Cresco, where he took a claim and built a cabin. There he married Miss Nancy H. Kellogg on December 20, 1857.

He began his career with The Mirror October 1, 1861. The Mirror, founded in 1854, has reached its 68th volume. At 83, Mr. Eaton remains active, although his eyesight is now defective.

A few years ago he made a trip in an airplane and liked the experience. It was a far cry from the days when he came to Iowa—days when the sleeping car was just being heard of and before telephones, electric cars, electric lights, elevators and automobiles had become common.

What Is Good Style This Fall?

The man who regards his clothes-buying as an investment in good appearance will want to know what is correct style this fall, what is good fashion for men.

—Loose, easy fitting lines dominate in the fall suits for men and young men of quieter tastes, while the opposite is true of the fancier models for spirited youths.

—In the coats, both peak and notch lapels are good, while two, three and four-button fronts are equally good. Some have patch pockets, but the flap pockets lead in favor.

—The tendency in trouseis is toward the wider and straighter hanging bottoms; cuffs are preferred.

—and the style in clothes-buying is as always—get the most value per dollar—and that means pay enough to make good quality certain $20.00 to $35.00

WORKS FOR CHILD MUST KEEP WELL

Mothers in a Like Situation Should Read This Letter from Mrs. Enrico

Chicago, Illinois.—"I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for a serious trouble. I had tried doctors and all said the same—an operation. At first I only felt the pain on my left side, but later I seemed to feel it on both sides. I am a power sewing-machine operator and have a little girl to support. I work in a tailor shop and that line of work has been very slack this year and I am home part of the time. I do not like to take any chances, so I consulted my friends, and one lady said, 'Take Lydia Pinkham's medicine,' so I did. I have felt better right along and am in good enough health to go to work. I recommend your Vegetable Compound and Sanative Wash to all."—Mrs. MARY ENRICO, 459 N. Carpenter St., Chicago, Illinois.

Often the mother is obliged to support her children and good health is necessary. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is just the medicine you can depend upon. It is a medicine for women's ailments and the relief it brought Mrs. Enrico it may bring to you. Keep well by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Farmers' Column

By Byron Norrell

It is always pleasant to meet old friends and among the delegates to the I. O. O. F. and Rebekah grand lodge and assembly I have found several. Among these is S. D. Williams, a prominent attorney of Wynnewood and one of the high officials of the Odd Fellows. He and I were in college together twenty years ago and after finishing our school work naturally drifted to Oklahoma to grow up with the country. Williams is coming to the front, I am pleased to say.

Another friend in the newspaper field is Mrs. Lucy Eastman of Chattanooga, Oklahoma. She has conducted a newspaper business for a number of years and has always made a success of it. She always attends the state press meetings and has served as vice-president.

Sometime ago I spoke of the new variety of cotton put out by the A. & M. college, temporarily known as Oklahoma Triumph 44. Monday afternoon I saw a good demonstration of this cotton. From 10 acres grown by E. H. Simpson between Stonehill and Lula, two bales have been picked and at least one more will yet be gathered from it. Ten acres of another standard variety adjoining this yielded about 1,000 pounds from the first picking and it is doubtful if the second will yield over 500. The two fields are on the same kind of soil and were cultivated exactly alike, hence the new variety appears to have it very much over the other. A bale of the Triumph was sold at Stonewall Saturday at 21.50, which was a cent above much of what was sold that day.

Here are some suggestions from the Farm and Ranch on the weevil problem. It is a safe bet that we shall have some weevils with us next year, but the experience of Texas farmers proves that it is possible to get away with a large percentage by going after the old crop early and cleaning up his food supply and winter quarters. Here are the suggestions made by the Farm and Ranch:

1. Weevil infestation in spring starts from the few weevil that pass the winter.
2. The weevils developed late in the fall are the ones most likely to survive the winter.
3. Many weevils will survive the winter in fields where cotton stalks, together with grass weeds and other refuse material offering shelter, are allowed to remain.
4. Great numbers successfully pass the winter in Spanish moss and in dead grass along fences, ditches and other waste places.
5. The weevil eats only cotton.
6. The weevil breeds only in cotton squares and bolls.
7. The weevil can live for several months without food while hibernating and inactive.
8. It does not become inactive until the first killing frosts.
9. Previous to the first killing frosts it can live for only about six days without food.
10. Killing cotton growth early prevents the weevils breeding and permits only the older ones to enter hibernation.
11. Very few of these older weevils have sufficient vitality to pass the winter successfully.
12. Killing cotton growth early removes the food of the weevil. If the growth of cotton is killed entirely as early as two weeks before frosts practically all weevils will starve before going in winter quarters.
13. Destroy cotton growth early; if possible, by October 1st.
14. Merely chopping or clipping the stalks off will not answer; the stumps will throw out new growth ideal for weevil food.

15. Kill the plant entirely and prevent new growth by setting a plow shallow and turning out the plants or by some equally effective means.

16. Do not burn crop refuse on the fields; Texas farmers need this returned to the soil as manure. Merely killing the plants as suggested in No. 15 will in most cases secure the benefits aimed at.

17. Burn the trash along fences, ditches and other such waste places in midwinter and thus destroy the individuals hibernating there. (See Nos. 4 and 16.)

18. A farmer cannot prevent weevils coming to his cotton in the spring that another person has wintered.

19. Big things are accomplished only by co-operation.

20. Organize a whole community for the fight.

U. S. Propaganda is Blamed by Embassy for Juarez Revolt

(By the Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 3.—"Pro-paganda" originating in the United States is blamed for the recent revolt of Mexican garrison at Juarez in a statement issued today by the Mexican embassy here.

"The official information tends to show," said the embassy's statement, "that the mutiny at Juarez garrison is due to propaganda emanating from the United States. The present situation is normal and business is carried on as usual."

Siki Won't Meet Dempsey Soon; Status of African is in Doubt

By Norman E. Brown
The recent sensational victory of Battling Siki, the ebony hued warrior from the equatorial regions of Africa, over Georges Carpentier, idol of France, is having its aftermath. The usual conjectures are: Will he fight Dempsey next? What chance will he have against the Giant Killer?

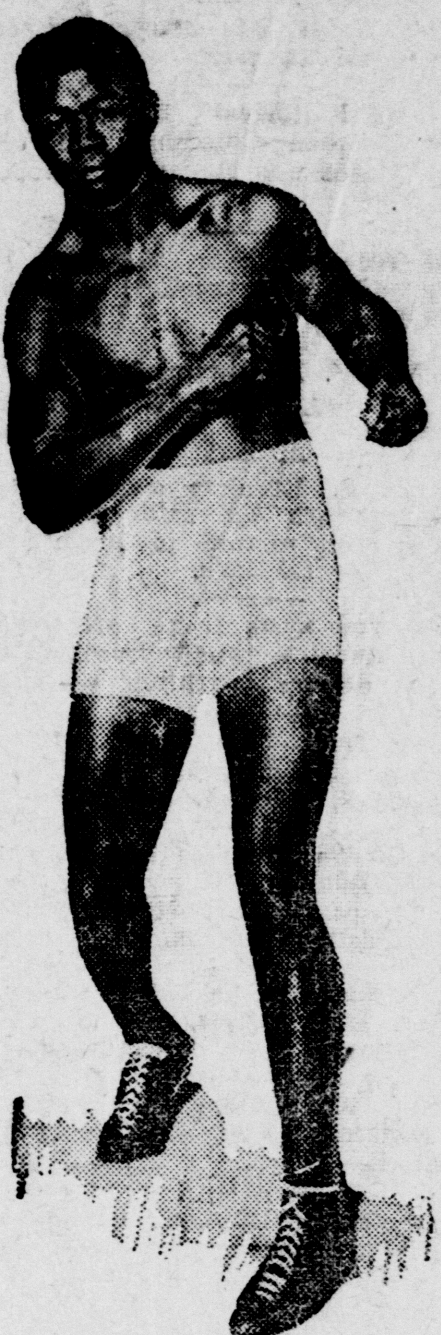

Will America see him soon? What manner of man is he to take that terrible right of the jumping Frenchman—the right which rocked Dempsey and fogged his brain momentarily at least? Answer to the first question: Mr. Siki probably will fight Dempsey some day, but not in the near future.

Carp Made Preliminary Trip
Recall the "battle of a century" between Carpentier and "Jacques the Dempsey"? Carpentier made one trip to America a year before the match, just to help boost interest in the battle. He met a setup—Battling Levinson—and then went home to let the plans take form. This procedure probably would be followed again with Siki. Second: His chances against Dempsey are mostly a matter of opinion. There is this point which can be considered, however: Dempsey is more of Siki's type. Carpentier was the fast, clever, cunning fighter with one deadly punch. Siki's first of all a case-hardened statue of steel, built to take anything the ordinary fighter can hand him, and then by brute strength tell his opponent.

Dempsey has the speed and the cunning Carpentier has. But in addition Dempsey apparently has the iron physique that Siki has. Dempsey has a knock-out wallop in either hand which he can deliver from any angle. He has, also, a physique more like that of Siki's. He could fight Siki in his own style and carry with him the advantage of experience, greater speed, no doubt, and more nearly the same amount of endurance.

To Show in London
Late reports indicate that Siki's next bout will be with Joe Beckett or some other English heavy in London. If this be the case that bout will be months in the making, while Siki basks in the limelight over there. Another triumph in London might mean immediate departure for America to collect the waiting coin there. Again, Siki might find more ready matches abroad which would assure him a fair return and easy victories. So the time of his arrival can't even be guessed at.

As to Siki himself, His status hasn't been determined definitely by his victory over Carpentier. The fact that he took Carpentier's man-killing right and laughed in the Frenchman's face stamps him as a tough warrior—a rugged creature who can stand punishment. But Carpentier's condition that night is a matter of discussion. There are those who think the Frenchman, busy with his movie contracts and taking Siki as a joke, failed to train as religiously as he did for Dempsey and other worthy foes. There are others who have insisted right along that Dempsey took the fight out of Carpentier—killed his confidence and thereby his main asset.

Siki, all observers agree, fights more with the primitive instinct of his tribe than with a knowledge of boxing.

Experience May Spoil Him
If he can retain his jungle style he may continue to knock 'em stiff. But it is the history of boxing that many natural fighters have hurt their own careers by unconsciously absorbing the finer points of the game. It is doubtful if Jack Dempsey hits with the terrific power and man-killing manner he did when he was slugging his way to the championship. He has learned to handle himself differently. He uses more footwork. He has learned to hit and draw away.

Siki, therefore, cannot be considered in the light of a possible contender for Dempsey's crown. He stands now as a freak of the ring—the latest sensation. The next few months will give us a better rating for him.

GRID FANS EAGER FOR FIRST GAME

College Battles Thursday and Friday to Furnish Dope on Season.

Sulphur high school will be the first team to meet the East Central second stringers, according to word from the college today. Local pigskin artists go to Sulphur Thursday. The squad this week is being given final signal work in preparation for the game.

It will be the opening game and the coach will get his first chance to see what his second squad can do. He is saving most of his first team players for Friday's game, not taking any chances of getting them injured at Sulphur.

Oklahoma Baptist University will be here for the initial game of the college season on Ada field. Pep meetings galore are being held at the college this week and enthusiasm is growing daily. A demonstration with a public initiation is being planned by the Bullfrogs.

Better support than ever before is promised by the interest being taken in the forthcoming game. Thompson was giving his men light scrimmage today and will carry out a heavy signal program Wednesday. The boys will get to rest Thursday and will then demonstrate what they can do against the Bisons Friday afternoon.

Much interest is attached to the opening game inasmuch as it will give Coach Thompson some idea of his chances for a victorious season. Thompson's team is composed entirely of new players here and he has been hard at work to mould a machine that will not crack before the season is over. Better material than the school has had in years is being trained.

Four and probably five games will be played on college field this year.

CAN THEY SOLVE THE YANKEE PITCHERS AND SLUGGERS?

The Giants' strategy board. Hughie Jennings, left; John McGraw, center, and Cozy Dolan, snapped in session at the Polo Grounds.

By Norman E. Brown

The fact that the Yankees should, by all that is true and holy in baseball, lick the baseball trousters off the Giants in their approaching series isn't making John McGraw, Napoleon leader of the Giants, weep bitter tears. For McGraw is confident that his board of strategy can compass the weakness of his pitching staff by putting the magnifying glass on the Yanks and solving their weakness which lie beneath the averages. McGraw has as his chief aids on the strategy board Hughie Jennings, former Oriole and manager of the Tigers, and Cozy Dolan, veteran player and ranked as one of the keenest students of baseball active in the game today.

Jennings always has been known as master strategist with a daring method which made the Tigers a popular and winning ball club for years despite their perpetual lack of pitchers. He is well acquainted with the best methods of attack and defense behind a weak pitching staff.

Dolan's ability to read batters and pitchers will make him a valuable asset on the bench.

It may be said after the forthcoming world's series that the series was won off the field and not on—if the Giants should cop-

DAVEY ROBERTSON

Robertson helped McGraw win a pennant in 1917. Then was allowed to go to Chicago a couple of seasons later for Phil Douglas. Lived to Pittsburgh and then back to N. Y.

CASEY STENGEL

"Kasey from Kansas" broke into big leagues with Brooklyn long enough to play in seventeen games in 1912. Returned next year. Has played in Pittsburgh and Philly, too.

ART NEHR

Neher paid Boston $55,000 for him in 1919. Trained his south paw with Negawnee. Played one season in Terre Haute, Kansas City and Sioux City.

JOHN SCOTT

John Scott almost caused a baseball war when he reported to Reds from Braves last spring with a crew and said let him go. McGraw, however, let him go.

HUGH McQUILLAN

Hugh was sold to the Phillies by the Pirates seven years ago at the waiver price just in time for him to help Moran win flag. Giants met him from Braves.

WASHINGTON TO MEET MISSOURI MINERS ON OCT. 7

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Oct. 3.—Washington University's football team is being built through strenuous practice for its first real test Oct. 7, when the eleven meets the Missouri School of Mines from Rolla on the home campus here.

From Sept. 15 to Sept. 28, the squad practiced twice daily, but since then class sessions have prevented the forenoon workout. The drills consist of tackling the dummy, charging, blocking, running with and falling on the ball, signal practice, strategy, and scrimmage. Coach George Rider also has been explaining all the details of football rules.

ARLIE LATHAM
What a wealth of memories this name brings back to the older generation of baseball fans.

First, as one of the most spectacular infielders the game has known, then as coach of the Giants and later as a jester and coaching line clown Latham made hundreds of thousands of friends among fans and ball players.

It is interesting to learn, therefore, that he is still "mixed up" in baseball. He has been living in England for the last six years. Right now he is diligently managing a league of six teams organized in London by "Shorty" Strelbel, ex-Cardinal.

Latham starred as a player with the St. Louis Browns and the Cincinnati Reds. He played with the Browns from 1883 to 1890—in the days when Charley Comiskey was holding down first base for the St. Louis club. Chris Von der Ahe was owner of the club and the jokes Latham played on Chris are among the classics of baseball anecdotes. His playing days are over. Arlie became scout and coach for John McGraw. He developed into a sort of "king's jester" and his antics on the coaching lines brought the house down, so to speak.

Difference in seasons is not due to the relatively small change in the distance between the sun and the earth, but to the variation in the slope of the earth as it travels its orbit.

Every person you see is complaining of dry weather just like they never saw any dry weather before. I guess they would do the same thing if it had been wet as long as it has been dry.

A. C. Nabors went to Ada Saturday to the big rally, reported a big time.

School has closed here and the children are busy picking cotton but it will not last long.

ADA COLLEGE HAS GREATEST GROWTH

East Central Leads Whole State for Increase in Enrollment.

East Central Teachers college showed the greatest increase in enrollment of all high educational institutions in the state during the past year, according to figure recently released by R. H. Wilson, state superintendent of education.

An average increase in attendance of 22 per cent was shown. Gains made by the Ada school was 53 per cent.

It was 47 per cent at Central State Normal school at Edmond and 42 per cent at Southwestern State Normal at Weatherford. Northwestern State Normal reported an increase of 25 per cent.

The second largest increase was reported at the newly established school of Mines at Miami, where it amounted to 50 per cent. Oklahoma A and M. college with less than half the number of students that attend the state university, registered exactly the same increase. Hence the percentages differ from 12 per cent for the universities to 26 per cent for the agricultural college. Enrollment at the university November last year was 1,434 as against 1,569 this year.

Only One School Lost.
The only institution which made a report showing a loss in enrollment was the Baptist university at Shawnee, where a decrease of 6 per cent was shown. The enrollment last year was 315, the report showed, while it was 295 this year, a loss of twenty students.

Oklahoma Military college at Claremore showed no loss and no gain, the president reported, because the capacity of the school is fixed at 108 and was reached both years, with a waiting list.

The Oklahoma College for Women at Chickasha showed a gain of 11 per cent this year. The University Preparatory school at Tonkawa made an increase of 10 per cent. Gain at the school for the deaf at Sulphur was 1 per cent, but, was kept down by lack of facilities, the superintendent reported.

Report from the University of Tulsa showed that enrollment was proceeding at two points and that exact figures were not available, but on the reporting date they were estimated at 200 students.

More Study Agriculture.
Small agricultural colleges located at various points reported gains. The best reported was at the Murray school at Tishomingo, where the increase was 32 per cent. The Cameron school at Lawton showed a gain of 25 per cent. Each of these schools has about 200 this year.

The total number of students enrolled in the fifteen reporting schools on September 22, was 9,881. The reporting schools were as follows: Oklahoma State university, Central State normal, East Central normal, Northwestern normal, Southwestern normal, Oklahoma College for Women, Miami School of Mines, University Preparatory school, Oklahoma Military academy, A. and M. college, Cameron School of Agriculture, Murray School of Agriculture, Baptist university, University of Tulsa, and the School for the Deaf.

The schools not reporting were: Northeastern normal, Southeastern normal, the Wilburton School of Mines, Connor Agricultural school, Phillips university, Oklahoma City college and the State School for the Blind.

JONES CASE MAY REST WITH JURY
THIS AFTERNOON

State Puts Small Girl on Stand Today to Relate Alleged Attack.

MOTHER QUESTIONED

Jury is Dismissed While County Physician is Being Quizzed.

At 2:30 this afternoon the state was nearing an end of its case against Buck Jones, charged with rape. Practically all of the witnesses who were used by the prosecution in Jones' preliminary had been on the stand again and had reiterated their stories of the alleged assault. Jones is charged with a statutory offense, his sister-in-law, Mrs. Pearl Jones, being the complaining witness. The attack is alleged to have been committed early in May, this year.

Little Mildred Jones, age 9, niece of the defendant and the person upon whom the attack is alleged to have been made, appeared as one of the main prosecution witnesses today. Her mother also testified.

At mid-afternoon the jury was taken from the court room for ten minutes while Dr. I. L. Cummings, county physician, was interrogated by attorneys for the state and for the defense upon technical phases of the case. He told of having been called to the county jail on June 1, this year, and of having made an examination of Jones to ascertain if possible if any gonorrheal symptoms existed. Unable to discover sufficient symptoms without the use of a microscope, he took the defendant to his office and made slides which indicated that the disease existed, he said.

Here are Jurors
Jurors who are trying the case are Sam Cox, E. P. Tingle, G. W. Braly, J. E. Logan, R. D. Milligan, H. J. Angle, J. H. Chadwick, C. H. Miller, H. B. Williams, W. B. Sanders, C. F. Childers, and W. F. Leach.

More difficulty than was expected was encountered in drawing the jury. When court convened this morning the box was not yet filled and both the state and the prosecution had five challenges left.

A special venire of 60 names was drawn and the jury finally impaneled.

The T. J. Bassinger murder case is scheduled for trial after the Jones case goes to the jury.

SUPREME COURT
SETS PRECEDENT
UPON UTILITIES

(By the Associated Press)
OKLAHOMA CITY, Oct. 3.—Setting a precedent for further cases the Supreme Court today decided that the state corporation commission has the right to order the extension of public utility services and that this right cannot be questioned where the demand is shown to be reasonable.

The decision was rendered in a case appealed from the commission by the Oklahoma Natural Gas Co. which had been ordered by the commission to extend gas mains from 40th to 41st street, along Tennessee avenue and laterals on these streets of Oklahoma City.

The court held that the corporation in accepting its franchise to distribute natural gas assumed a public duty to provide adequate, reasonable service and to expand with reasonable demands of the community and is compelled to do so when able.

THURSDAY NIGHT

"The Bachelor Daddy"
A picture which radiates happiness and which will undoubtedly help many to see the finer and truer side of life is "The Bachelor Daddy," which was given its initial presentation at the McSwain theater last evening. It is a picture which demonstrates the power of child love and no better selection for the starring role therein could have been made than Thomas Meighan, famous as the "Good Luck Star."

The story is of a man who unselfishly adopts the five motherless children of his dying pal, despite the fact that his own wedding day is but a week distant. He does not know it at the time, but the little ones bring him to the realization of a greater love than he thought was possible.

The work of the star in this Paramount picture is wonderful, while Leatrice Joy as leading woman acts her part with warmth and charm. Of the five kiddies—Charlotte (Peaches) Jackson, Barbara Maier, Bruce Guerin and the deBriac Twins—too much cannot be said.

The choice of locations, photography and performances of the remaining members of the cast all deserve praise, and in its entirety the picture is one of the happiest and most wholesome productions of the year.
